Senator Cockrell's Slouch Hat If Senator Francis Marion Cockrell of Missouri, lives to complete his fifth term in the Senate he will have equal ed Senton in length of service, and, ac cording 's his admirers, will have surpassed the popular achievements of that Missourian.

At the close of the war he resumed the practice of law, and in 1874 was elected to the United States Senate as the successor of Mr. Oarl Schurz, and took his seat in 1875 He has several times been re-elected, and his present term will end in 1905, making a coutinuous Senatorial service of 36 years Senator Cockrell owes his political career to a defeat and to his magnatmous acceptance of it.

Prior to 1874 he had never been a candidate for public office. Yielding to the influence of his associates, he became in that year a caudidate for nomination for Governor. One of the most fervid contests ever known in Missouri politics resulted, and the excitement reached its culmination in the State convention.

Mr. Cockrell was defeated by O H Hardin by one-sixth of one vote. His friends expected a graceful, but not cheerful, acceptance of the result

But when the decisive ballot was annonneed, Mr. Oockrell sprang to his feet, threw ceiling ward his gray slouch hat, and with a ringing shout that echoed among the Callaway hills, echoed for three cheers for the nominee When the convention recovered from its surprise it gave the cheers, but they were for Mr. Cookrell. The convention cheered and cheered notil he became its hero, and this popularity made him an invincible caudidate for the United States Senate -The Saturday Evening Post

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

Hones, King George Co., Feb. 20, 1901.

To The Free Lance Ex-Judge O H Ashton, of King terial and worthy of the place.

The farmers of Prince Edward county have taken the initiative and called a mass-meeting of the people of the county to select a saitable man to represent that county in the Constitutional Convention. This precedent is likely to be followed in many sections. The

When we favor the election of Republicans to the Constitutional Convention it is not because they are Republicans but because, as in the case of Judge Lewis and some others, they are men of such distinguished ability and high character that the State ought to have the benefit of their service in this important work, and it would be a great loss to the State not to have it Mr. Wine's this week. Is is expecting too much of frail human nature, perhaps, to hope that there will be no partisanship in the Convention, but there ought to be as little of that spirit as possible, and the fact should never be lost sight of, that the object is to frame the organic law that must govern a great State for many years to come, no matter what may be the chaoges in the interests and partisan monia, which is really the only serious and take. feelings of the people. - Index Appeal.

Don't Mix The Two.

Quite a number of the leading papers of the First District are viewing the Gubernatorial fight in the same way that The Free Lance has expressed itself. Several of the down-the-river papers have sized up the situation, as have also some of the Eastern Shore contemporaries. The Star, of this city, puts the matter in a nutshell when "Friends of State Senator LeCato in the First District, and in fact, all over the State, are anxious to know whether the newspapers of his home section are loyal in their support of the Eastern Shore man, or whether they are making his candidacy a blind, behind which they can press the claims of Mr. Montague. It looks very much to us like a number of them care less about Senator LeCato and more about Mr. Montague. We give our contemporaries credit for the work they are doing in the Senator's behalf, and yet they must recognize the plain fact that if they tangle the Governorship fight up with that for the Lieutenant-Governorship they seriously endanger the chances of their mun. You can't fight Mr. Swanson and nominste Mr. LeCato; you will find that the latter's success depends on his ability to keep his followers from antagonising any of the Gubernstorial candidates, and you will find moreover-remember what we predict-that if you persist in your antagonism to Mr. Swanson, for no reason that we know of, except to stand in with Congressman Jones, you will see Senator LeCato abandoned at the critical moment by the Montague people in other portions of the State, and lefs high and dry, while the support of
